DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US patent No. 6, 307,845 ("Hummelgren et al.").

Regarding claim 1, Hummelgren et al. teach a method and networks of Gateway Packet Mobile Services Switching Center (GPMSC) in mobile communication system (A system for use in communications) between a first network (IP mail box) and an external network (Internet Host) (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 1-3) comprising of receiving packet from the Internet Host (receiving, in a system, a data unit) containing a source address indicating a source of packet (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 3-8), comparing the source address of the packet to the MS/DTE address entries in the table (matching the source address with information stored in the system) (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 14-18), and forwarding the packet into the IP voice mailbox associated with the matched MS/DTE address (enabling entry of the data unit to the first network) if a matching MS/DTE address is found in the table and discarding the packet if no match (denying entry of the data ... stored in the system) (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 12-14).

Regarding claim 2, Hummelgren et al. further teach that matching the source address with a look-up table for Mobile station and DTE address translation mapping (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 9-12).

Regarding claim 3, Hummelgren et al. further teach that source address comprises matching an Internet Protocol address (See Fig. 3, Col 4, lines 5-6).

3. Claims 14 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US patent No. 6,744,767 ("Chiu et al.").

Regarding claims 20, Chiu et al. teach a method and networks of voice gateways (22) for bandwidth management during implementation of Quality of Service using Internet Protocol provisioning (A system for ... external network) (See Fig. 2) comprising of a memory buffer (54) (See Fig. 2, Col 5, lines 53-55) (a storage module) to store the global and local thresholds (a threshold value) for a service classes when a packet arrives (communications session), the global threshold indicates the maximum incoming packet rate (an acceptable rate of incoming data units from the external network to the first network) (See Fig. 5, Col 10, lines 11-14), and a Weighted Random Early Discard (516) (controller) to drop the packet if the local and global threshold exceeded (adapted to deny further ... the rate of incoming data units exceeds the threshold value) (See Fig. 5, Col 4, lines 18-23).

Regarding claims 14, Chiu et al. further teach that the voice gateways (22) typically include a microprocessor (42), memory system (44) to store and execute the instructions for the communication network system connection functions (See Fig. 2, Col 5, lines 33-38).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4-13, 15-19 and 21-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims and if no art rejection can be applied.
